Americans Blast Targets in the Ruhr In Daylight Raid

MANY BOMBS DROPPED ON ITALIAN TIP

Targets on Mainland Including Reggio Calabria And San Giovanni, Are Damaged

NAPLES VISITED AGAIN

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 22—(AP)—British Wellington bombers attacked the Italian west coast port of Naples on Sunday night and American Flying Fortresses returned to the same objectives yesterday. Allied headquarters announced today.

"Considerable damage was done in the railway yards and to industrial facilities," the communique said, and bombs were seen to burst on the arsenal. The air depot and several industrial buildings at Cancello, near Naples, were severely damaged.

Sweeping over with the Flying Fortresses for the daylight assaults, American Mitchell medium bombers, escorted by P-38 Lightnings, attacked Salerno and Battipaglia, both south of Naples, the war bulletin said. Factories and railway yards were hit there.

Two Allied aircraft were reported missing. Three enemy planes were destroyed, the bulletin said. Targets on the Italian mainland, Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni, also were attacked without loss by American and British heavy bombers operating from Middle East bases, said a Cairo communique. Twenty out of 40 intercepting enemy fighters were shot down.

The American bomb carriers made their assaults in daylight yesterday, capsizing a ferryship in the Messina Straits off San Giovanni, plastering railway sidings there with bombs and demolishing the harbor mole.

Explosives also were spread over the mole area, ferry terminals at railway sidings and station at Reggio Calabria by the Americans. Bombs also hit the town there.

The RAF heavy fighters hit the same targets the night before but poor visibility prevented accurate observation.

The Italian communique, as broadcast from Rome and recorded by The Associated Press, also listed Annunziata, south of Naples, as one of the objectives of the four-engined plane formations.

BLONDE WIDOW HELD FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Waynesburg, June 22—(AP)—Mrs. Nancy Jeannette Holt, 29, of Frederick, Okla., was held for the Greene county September grand jury on a charge of murder in the death of her husband, Jesse H. Holt, 33, after a hearing here yesterday.

Holt, operator of a tractor on the "Big Inch" pipeline, died May 27. Corporal George Benson of the state police testified that poisoned food, including corn bread and jam, were found in the Holt home three days after his death, and that an autopsy performed in Oklahoma showed presence of the poison in Holt's organs.

The blonde widow made no comment during the hearing.

S. S. T. Junking May Cause Chemical Plant to Suspend

Due to the fact that the Interstate Commerce Commission has approved the application of the S. S. T. Railroad to take up its lines and junk them down the Tionesta valley, the Mayburg Chemical Company may be forced to end its career.

The chemical company has as yet not reached a definite decision, but feels that it would be unable to carry on by the use of trucks in hauling wood and its finished product when the railroad goes.

Moscow Claims Germany Is Facing Military and Political Crisis

LOSSES ARE COMPARED

London, June 22—(AP)—Germany, shocked by recent reverses, is facing a military and political crisis, but the Allies must open a second front in Europe this year if they hope for a quick victory, the Russians declared today on the second anniversary of Hitler's invasion of the Soviet Union.

In a special communique broadcast by the Moscow radio, the Soviet Information Bureau said: "During the past year the German army has had no military successes. On the contrary, it has suffered one defeat after another on the Soviet front and in North Africa. Thus, as a result, the German military power has been shaken and a crisis caused."

Reviewing the two years of the bloodiest struggle in history, the broadcast listed Germany's Russian front casualties at 6,400,000 killed and missing and Russian losses 4,200,000 in dead and missing.

Germany has lost 42,400 tanks, 56,500 guns and 43,000 planes as compared with Russian losses of 30,000 tanks, 35,000 guns and 23,000 planes, said the communique, which was recorded by the Soviet Monitor here. It asserted that the Germans have lost the main part of their first-line divisions and described Hitler's defeat before Moscow.

OWI To Have A New Policy

By KARL BAU"AN
Washington, June 22—(AP)—Palmer Hoyt, new director of the Office of War Information (OWI) domestic branch, outlined today a policy of giving the American people "straight information about the war" without "propagandizing."

"This means there will be no pamphleteering from this office," Hoyt, published of the Portland Oregonian, said in a statement which augured a brief press conference late yesterday.

"It also means that this office will yield to no political pressure, and will serve no political interests. This is an office of war information; it will deal only with information about the war."

Hoyt, who described himself as a life-long Republican, smilingly remarked that he appeared before the reporters as "one who has been abolished."

WLB Stands Firm On the Decree For No-Strike Contract

Washington, June 22—John L. Lewis and Secretary Ickes conferred again today on the coal controversy, which has closed the mines in a tight strike, even the War Labor Board (WLB) was disclosed to be calling for White House intervention.

They met for an hour and a half and declined to say what had transpired.

Lewis said nothing at all, and Ickes' office simply issued this statement: "The secretary of interior and members of his staff today conferred with John L. Lewis, John O'Leary, John Owens and Percy Teltow, executive officials of the United Mine Workers."

"There will be no further comment today from the office of the secretary of the interior."

The announcement duplicated one by Ickes on their first meeting yesterday, except that it omitted the assertion that the conference would be resumed.

Ickes, as federal boss of the mines, received the United Mine Workers' leader at the interior department.

An authoritative source, who withheld use of his name, said the WLB had directed its chairman, William H. Davis, to take to the White House a letter outlining the board's position and strongly recommending that the president order enforcement of its decree that the union and operators sign a two-year no-strike contract, minus provisions to meet Lewis' wage increase demands.

Although the WLB decision last Friday was reached on an 8-4 vote, the board was described as unanimously determined that the terms of its decision should be observed.

Lewis responded to reporters' questions only with a smile as, accompanied by John Owens, John O'Leary and Percy Teltow of the United Mine Workers, he showed up at Ickes' office.

Barring some settlement not yet apparent, President Roosevelt was believed to be ready to take prompt action to get the miners back to work. What this action might be was not indicated.

Their latest walkout, third in seven weeks, has already begun to choke the war-vital steel industry; coke production was cut in Alabama and Pennsylvania, some blast furnaces were being prepared to shut down and officials pictured the industry as close to the bottom of the bin in coal supplies.

Without presidential intervention, the only hopeful sign in the troubled coal situation was a series of conferences between Interior Secretary Ickes, government operator of the mines, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers (UMW), they met yesterday, kept silent about what was discussed, and gave out only that the talks were continuing today.

Lewis and the UMW policy committee refused to interfere with the walkout which followed a two-weeks truce between the miners (Turn to Page Nine).

Brown Criticized By Gavin During Meeting

Washington, June 22—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration and its head, Prentiss Brown, will be "responsible" if the armed forces do not get the gasoline and oil they need, in the opinion of Rep. Leon Harry Gavin, Republican from Ohio City, Pa.

Gavin told Brown at an informal meeting called by Rep. Hartley, chairman of an Eastern States Fuel Investigation committee, that "your department is responsible for a great part of the rub in this situation."

"The military is getting the supplies it needs and I totally disagree with what you've just said," Brown replied.

The exchange arose when a proposed increase in the price of crude oil was mentioned. Brown said Secretary Ickes' recommendation for the increase was rejected by OPA "in view of the president's hold-the-line order."

General All-Around Increase in the Work Of Red Cross Is Shown In Annual Reports

Reports of increased production, multiplied activities and a general all-around growth of work featured reports made last night at the annual meeting of the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross.

RACE FIGHTS CAUSE DEATHS OF 23 PEOPLE

At Least Seven Hundred Injured and Approximately 1,300 Are Being Held by Police

LOOT IS EXTENSIVE

Detroit, June 22—(AP)—Grim, steel helmeted federal troops backing their commands with rifles and machine guns enforced calm today in riot-torn sections of war-busy Detroit where 23 persons—20 of them negroes—were killed and 700 injured in racial fighting Monday.

The soldiers, marching on patrol past shattered stores and residences or rolling through empty streets in jeeps and armored cars, operated under the authority of a presidential proclamation and under orders from their officers to "fix your bayonets, load your guns and don't take anything from anybody."

White and negro antagonists who engaged in bloody battling that even swirled about Detroit's venerable city hall on downtown Woodward avenue, skulked into hiding.

Under an order by Governor Harry Kelly of Michigan barring assembly of persons in Wayne (Detroit), Oakland and Macomb counties, an American League baseball game between the Detroit and Cleveland teams scheduled for 6 p. m. tonight, was postponed. Officials of the Detroit club hoped it would be possible to play a double header tomorrow.

What provoked the widespread outburst of violence that quickly got out of control of Detroit's force of 3,500 policemen remained undetermined today.

President Roosevelt, in a proclamation from Washington, ordered that "all persons engaged in unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings" retire peacefully to their homes. He called on "all good citizens" to "uphold the law and preserve the public peace."

Order Limits Shipments To Communities

Wilkes-Barre, June 22—(AP)—A voluntary system of dealer-rationing of anthracite went into effect today even as fears were expressed in some quarters that the second industry-wide shutdown in a month might have serious effects upon the domestic fuel supply.

In an effort to insure every community of a fair share of hard coal, Solid Fuels Administrator Harold L. Ickes limited shipments to communities to a proportion of last year's summer deliveries and left consumer rationing to dealers.

Under the temporary program, which does not affect bituminous coal, a national and six regional anthracite distributors committees will be named to regulate the distribution of anthracite in the four sizes normally used for home heating—egg, stove, chestnut and pea. Ickes said a permanent program is being worked out.

Although the fuels administration made no mention of the strike in his order, issued yesterday, more than 185,000 tons of anthracite are being sent daily as a result of the shutdown, according to estimates of state officials.

French Crisis Is Surmounted

Algiers, June 22—(AP)—The French Committee of National Liberation met in plenary session today to consider a new proposal for settling the issue of military power after the United States and Great Britain were disclosed to have stipulated that Gen. Henri Giraud remain commander in chief of the French armed forces.

Informed sources said the United States and Britain had informed both Gen. Charles De Gaulle and Giraud that Giraud must retain full command of the French armed forces at least as long as French Africa remained a base of French military operations.

U. S. Steel Company Planning to Shut Down 19 Of 37 Plants By Thursday

RAILROADS HARD HIT

Pittsburgh, June 22—(AP)—First blast furnaces were closed today by iron and steel producers whom the two-day-old coal mine shutdown caught with low supplies of coke and coal. The cumulative result of the three successive miners' walkouts thus hit some sections of the steel industry twice as quickly as during walkout No. 2 early this month.

The Shenango Furnace Company, operating two blast furnaces and a foundry at Sharpsville, Pa., made the initial formal announcement that one furnace was "forced down because of no coal, no coke, no fuel."

The United States Steel Corporation, already beginning to close blast furnaces which make pig iron, reported that six furnaces of three subsidiary companies would be shut down by tomorrow and that by Thursday 19 out of 37 would be down. The subsidiaries are Carnegie-Illinois, the nation's largest steel producing unit; National Tube Company, and the American Steel and Wire Company. Twenty-three of the furnaces are operated by Carnegie-Illinois.

Republic disclosed yesterday that four of its Alabama blast furnaces were cut to 80 per cent of capacity. Meanwhile, railroad executives in Pittsburgh reported coal supplies were dangerously low.

A Pennsylvania Railroad spokesman estimated the railroad's supplies were dangerously low.

NYC Bridge to Be Raised Soon

Harrisburg, June 22—(AP)—The public utility commission today authorized the New York Central and the Pennsylvania railroads to raise the Youngsville, Warren county, railroad bridge 18 inches to permit more direct shipment of war material over the Renovo division of the Pennsylvania system.

The bridge, which carries the Valley branch of the New York Central over the Pennsylvania tracks, now provides a 16.85 foot clearance, the low height resulting in the Pennsylvania routing war material shipments over longer routes.

The change will cost $15,150.

Forest Fires Destroy Vital Resources Needed In the War

Forest fires last year burned over a total of 31,854,124 acres of United States woodlands, compared with 26,404,385 acres in 1941, the Department of Agriculture said today. The total number of fires in the first year was 208,218, an increase of 8,516 over 1941.

These fires destroyed forest resources of critical importance in the war drive, and the diversion of men to fire-fighting necessitated by outbreaks constituted a serious drain on manpower that could otherwise be utilized on war production, the Forest Service points out.

Of the 31 million acres burned in 1942, ninety percent was in eleven Southern states. Acreage loss by regions was: Eastern States 1,362,894; Southern 28,531,119; North Central, 1,123,421; Rocky Mountain 263,221; and Pacific, 573,469.

A sharp rise in the number of incendiary (deliberately set) forest fires occurred during the year. Nearly one-third of the forest fires reported on protected lands were of incendiary origin—12 percent more than the number of incendiary fires during the preceding year. A large percentage of the incendiary fires result from traditional but misguided woodburning practices in the South. The number of fires for which smokers were responsible ranked second only to those of an incendiary nature. Careless brush and debris burning was third in importance as a cause of forest fires.

More than 138 million acres of forest land still lack organized protection against forest fires, the Forest Service reported. This is approximately one-fourth of the total area classed as needing protection. Eighty-six percent of the total acreage burned last year was on this unprotected area. The number of fires by causes on protected lands was as follows: Lightning, 6,707; railroads, 5,020; campers, 3,398; smokers, 18,248; debris burning, 13,944; incendiary, 26,571; lumbering, 13,861; miscellaneous, 6,753; unknown, 3,762. Complete figures for unprotected areas are not available.

Although the total monetary damage reported amounted to nearly $45,000,000, foresters point out there is no way of obtaining accurate estimates of damage on unprotected lands, and in many cases the damage figures for unprotected areas are arbitrarily set at nominal $1.00 an acre.

Morning Raid Test Proved Successful Throughout Co.

The Good Old Summertime arrived in Warren this morning at 1:13 a. m. and then along at 4:03 the "yellow" alarm for an air raid arrived and more Warren folk rolled out of bed to welcome the air raid test and Summer than ever before in history. The warning yellow at 4:03 put the various OGD services on the alert and when the Blue signal sounded at 4:30 all went into action.

Of course there were some sleepy warden and auxiliary police but they managed to get out and lights were doused and traffic was handled in good shape. The Red signal sounding at 4:40 found most of the posts about the city staffed and everything moved smoothly.

The Control Center was entirely staffed at 4:35 with the exception of some persons who lived too far distant from the Center and it was a sort of heavy eyed staff and some of the fair lady members appeared without benefit of powder and rouge while some of the men had struggled into pajamas with pajama tops in lieu of a boiled shirt. Yawns were frequent.

All phases of the defense set-up were represented in the turn out and some who regularly do not report were on hand bringing interrogations "Hadn't you gone home yet?"

Due to the neglect to "flip a switch" two Blue signals were sounded, the intermittent sounding of the siren not coming through on the automatic switch. There was also some little difficulty in contacting Bear Lake as the worthy folk there sleep soundly. And John Rossman, superintendent of schools could not be roused on the school notification call.

All in all it was a good test, both locally and throughout the county, and the functioning of the various services was about all that could have been desired. The sirens were heard in good shape and the mighty whistle on the United Refinery echoed and re-echoed throughout the district. However in all of the sounding of sirens, etc., Rev. J. T. Wygant, chairman of the Council of Defense speakers bureau calmly slept through it all. However he remarked this morning "Such a light sleeper as I am I never heard a sound. Couldn't have been very loud". Inasmuch as no speeches were needed this morning it was just as well that he enjoyed his extra forty winks.

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the whole test was the speed with which every division of the Defense Corps gathered at their posts. Not only was this noted in Warren but in Sheffield the response was excellent. In Youngville the groups assembled promptly and at Sugar Grove the work was well done. The populace seemingly is growing well acquainted with the signals for the tests and the manner of response.

In a telephone conversation with Chief of Police George Haehn this morning, Jack Shields, chairman of the County Civilian Defense Council, stated that the signals were ignored not only in Erie, but Meadville and cities in Venango county. Mr. Shields intimated that no drills were held in either of those localities.

Woodchuck Fell To Aim Of Park's Gun

"Buff" Munn may be the champion fisherman of the Police Force but Jerry Parks takes the fur lined sharpshooting medal when it comes to woodchucks. Yesterday Jerry got a speedy call to answer an alarm from up Market street way to quell a wild animal ensconced in the boughs of one of the big maples. When he arrived a damsel pointed out the object in the tree and wanted to know if it was a Kodiak bear or something the Germans had dropped from a plane. Experienced in the ways of the woods and the denizens thereof Jerry cast his eagle eye upwards and spied a furry form. "It's a woodchuck" quoth the dauntless copper. And then like Frank Buck Jerry determined to "bring 'em back alive". But the chuk had other ideas and chucked a few growls Jerry's way. In fact the chuk got real insultin' and spit at Jerry a few times. Now a fellow can't stand everything so out came the trusty 45. A bullet spat from the gun accompanied by a roar of the light artillery and down tumbled the chuk. Jerry is still trying to figure out what business that woodchuck had in coming to town and why it chose to clamber up a tree.

According to the docket a mad dog was shot and his body transferred to fat to lick the Germans. This dog was percolating around the East Side and doing sundry feasts that marked it as mad. A stray dog was also picked up and as it was a cute little fellow maybe its owner is mad, too. And some youngsters tried out the windows of the Struthers-Wells plant with a stone. The glass shattered and the boy left the scene—hurriedly.

A garbage wagon and an automobile tangled when the truck backed up and the insurance company will apply the same. William Couse, a 16 year old youth of Falconer, N. Y., was picked up and he told a tale of seeking relatives here but later a call came from the Falconer police and the boy was held for them as he was missing from home.

Speeders got another jacking up from the police last night relative to the way they drive and red tickets are going to flutter out in a lavish way in the near future.

Churches and Youth Agencies Work Cooperatively to Meet Problems Caused by the War

(Special correspondence to The Times-Mirror)

Chicago, June 22—Youth on the swing shift or doing their bit to get in the crops this summer will not be forgotten by the churches of America. An emergency program to provide worship services, parties, and interdenominational discussion groups for youth on the home front is being launched by the Protestant youth agencies co-operating in the International Council of Religious Education and the United Christian Youth Movement.

A manual, "Christian Youth in Wartime Service," has just been issued, designed to aid Christian youth and their leaders in developing religious programs which will meet the demands occasioned by problems of wartime emergencies. The pamphlet describes five areas in which the churches and other youth agencies can work cooperatively. These problems are:

1. Help churches make adjustments in their youth programs to meet emergency needs on a community basis.
2. Plan and conduct an adequate recreation program for youth in the church and community.
3. Safeguard the religious, social and moral life of young people engaged in wartime agriculture.
4. Serve individuals and families who have moved into the community because of the need for them in war industry.
5. Help young people participate in a post-war Christian world order.

Numerous local and state groups of Christian youth are already at work on these problems, and with the issuance of the new guidance material, the emergency program will be vigorously promoted throughout the country. Development through the International Council of Religious Education, the Boy Scouts, the YMCA, the Boy Scouts, Student Volunteer Movement and other college campus religious organizations will share in the program.

The 20,000 copies of the pamphlet, "Christian Youth in Wartime Service," which will be distributed through the denominations and the 113 state and city councils of churches and religious education, members of the International Council, and the other agencies listed above, will give guidance to youth leaders in solving the following "needs to be met":

1. "Young people must be helped to stand the strain put upon them and their families by the heavy program of industrial work and changed patterns of home life; to meet constructively the problems which develop when they leave home to serve in the armed forces, in Civilian Public Service camps, or in war industry.
2. "Young people must be helped to make their enlistment in the nation's war-time agricultural program a wholesome experience; to stand the strains and tensions resulting from accelerated high school programs; to place a right valuation upon the high wages

LOSER TAKE ALL

By Adelaide Hazeltine

Chapter 13
ANN, conscious that the man behind her was intent on overtaking her on the bridge, quickened her steps.

She wanted to run but restrained herself. To run would show him she was frightened and if, as was still possible, he had no evil purpose it would simply bring her to his attention.

She would walk as fast as she could.

But the man gained on her. By the time she was half way to the other side he was only a few steps behind her.

Panic clutched her heart, turned her knees to water.

Then he spoke. "Ann! Ann Harrington!"

Her name. He knew her name and, thank heaven, she knew his voice, too!

She stopped, drew a breath of relief that turned almost at once to anger.

"What are you doing here?" she demanded of Jerry Lane. "You scared me half to death."

"I'm following you. You've no business down here this time of night alone."

"I suppose you've appointed yourself my body guard?"

"You need one. Sarah told me you were off on some wild goose chase. I waited in the lobby to see you when you came in and instead you went out. So I came along."

"Obviously." Then she remembered that he had found the will last night and she let her anger cool. She could at least be civil enough to give him a chance to tell her about it. Perhaps that was the reason he waited in the lobby for her. "You wanted to see me about something special," she said.

"Special?" He hesitated. "No, nothing special except," she couldn't see his eyes but she felt they were intent on hers, "well, I thought if you had to be out late I'd better be with you."

"But wasn't there anything...

I mean, hasn't anything turned up about my grandmother's will?"

"Will?" That note of surprise in his voice was just the right reflection for a perfect actor, caught in a deceit he was not willing to admit. "Has the will been found?"

"I... I thought you... isn't that what you wanted to tell me?"

"NO," he said thoughtfully. "Your charity case simply aroused my curiosity and I thought I'd see what you were up to."

So he wasn't going to show the will. He intended to keep that guilty secret to himself.

Her faith in human nature had tricked her. How foolish to have supposed he would renounce his claim to a health resort when all that stood between him and it was a scrap of paper which he himself possessed.

She had expected too much.

"Why should you want to protect me?" she said in a sarcastic tone. "When it would be to your advantage for somebody to slug me over the head?"

She whirled around and hurried on toward the trailer camp. He didn't follow her. The last time she glanced back he was standing where she had left him, his tall figure making a clear outline against the night sky.

Sickened with shame for him, hating herself for having trusted him, she half ran up the incline to the street above the Masons'.

It wasn't so much the loss of the inheritance that drew a band of pain tight around her heart. It was the loss of something infinitely more valuable. A man's honor.

She tried to forget Jerry by losing herself in the problems of the Masons. She spent the remainder of the night making the sick woman comfortable, seeing that Mr. Mason was able to sleep.

By the time the baby awoke for her early bottle the entire family was feeling better.

Ann made old fashioned pancakes and served them with syrup and sausages to Mr. Mason and Jack. Then she gave fruit juice to Mrs. Mason. At 10 o'clock the patient's fever was definitely breaking and Ann called Dr. Miller to report. He was gratified, assured her she was doing everything possible and promised to try to see the woman during the day.

BUT, strive as Ann could to fill her mind with other things, keen disappointment over Jerry's failure to reveal the will kept nagging her. She asked herself again and again what she should have done when she saw him find it. What steps she should have taken to insure its safety.

Returning to Terrence House late that afternoon she found four messages from Bert, all of them asking her to call him.

She wasn't sure she wanted to call him. She hadn't forgiven him for refusing the Masons' case. Yet good sense reminded her that he had had it presented to him in a biased way. If Ann herself had talked to him the result might have been quite different.

So in the end she called him. It was reassuring to hear his hearty "Hello" but as soon as he realized it was she he launched into a list of grievances which included the fact she had broken a dinner date with him last night.

Until he mentioned it she had not remembered the date at all. "I'm sorry, Bert. Truly I am."

"No one knew where you were," he complained. "I rang your phone off the wall."

In her complete exhaustion she evidently hadn't heard it.

"I was with the Masons most of the time," she said.

"Who in the blazes are the Masons?"

"I'll explain when I see you." "How about tonight? I'll come for you at 7. Right?"

"Right." She didn't feel up to one of Bert's evenings and still she wanted to talk to him. Perhaps he could help her get Jerry to acknowledge possession of the will.

SHOE RATIONING

The last-minute rush to use Coupon 17 before it expired at midnight June 15 raises the question of how well shoe rationing is working. Thousands of persons really did not need the shoes that coupon represented, but were buying them as insurance against getting caught in some future change of policy.

Perhaps it is inevitable in the attempt to distribute goods equitably in time of shortage. Perhaps not. At any rate, shoes presently unneeded were bought for hoarding, and inflation-producing spending was indulged in, to make certain that the coupons should not lapse.

Incidentally, from Washington comes the word that the shoe-buying panics that swept across the country have sent OPA theorists into a turmoil.

Should the U. S. follow England's pattern and issue coupons for a year-round supply of shoes? Will the public have learned a valuable lesson in last-minute shopping after standing in lines for hours? Can shoe people promote their product towards the middle of the No. 18 coupon period to ease the last-minute rush? Or are Americans proverbial procrastinators?

Proprietors of shoe stores feared that the No. 17 buying rush would carry over into the No. 18 period, and at least one big chain used newspaper advertisements to advise its customers that selections and sizes would be better in mid-July or August than they are now.

OPA experts will study the buying charts through the summer months to determine what should be done after the next ration period. The general opinion around OPA offices is that shoppers were actually unpatriotic if they bought shoes they didn't need, in sizes that didn't fit, just to use up No. 17 before the deadline.

BABY NEEDS FOOD

Because of low point values placed by the OPA on baby foods, many adults have been buying them. This diversion has reached such a point that one major manufacturer has requested food editors to ask the public to stop using them.

Baby ration books would call for something over 250,000,000 dozen cans a year, if all were used, but the industry is restricted to producing not more than 40,000,000 dozens. There isn't enough to feed everybody on strained foods.

Presumably most of the offenders have assumed that the low point value means a plenitude of baby food. It doesn't. There's a scarcity. So please don't take the food out of infants' mouths.

Protest against large increases in salaries given employees of certain government agencies at a time when the government is ordering wage and salary stabilization in private employment was registered by Hon. L. H. Gavin, representative in congress from the 20th district, in a speech on the house floor June 17th. And that reminds us, Congressman Gavin, one of the comparatively new members in the house of representatives, already has distinguished himself as one of the outspoken minority members in the present session.

Outstanding in the reports made at the annual meeting of the Warren County Chapter of the American Red Cross held last evening was the remarkable increase in activities and hours of service given by all classes of workers throughout the county. Under the officers, who were re-elected at a meeting of the executive board, the chapter has established a record that places it among the foremost Red Cross groups in the country, and for this achievement every citizen in the county may well take justifiable pride.

That dawn air raid drill today demonstrated that the local Control Center staff, along with air raid wardens, auxiliary police and all others within the Warren County Defense Council organization, are capable of functioning just as efficiently at 4:30 in the morning as they do at the same hour in the afternoon. The reputation of Warren county's Defense Council setup seems to have been most satisfactorily sustained in the surprise test.

You can't believe most things that come over the German radio, but right now they really are talking Turkey!

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — The war is writing the passing of the old dinner pail — full or otherwise.

Never again will any politician be able to revive that old campaign war cry, "the full dinner pail." And since you can hardly make political capital out of such slogans as "bigger and better cafeterias," or a thicker box lunch for every working man, it probably marks the beginning of a new era.

Over in the War Foods Administration is the Nutrition in Industry Division. Headed by Dr. Robert S. Goodhart, its main objective is to see that the war worker is as well fed as the soldiers in the field.

THIS is done by "in-plant" feeding, although that name is a little confusing because the system also permits feeding workers at nearby government-supervised restaurants, cafeterias, lunch counters and box-lunch distribution centers. Actually, within the plants, there are now three forms of getting food to employees: cafeterias, portable or stationary lunch counters, and the box lunch system.

In spite of the spiraling growth of war plants in this country, more than 40 per cent of those employing more than 250 persons (and probably thousands of lesser ones) now have in-plant, government supervised feeding.

WFA and OPA profess to be disappointed that there aren't more. They would like to see this country match England where 96 per cent of the "more-than-250" plants have done away with the dinner pail, not to mention 7,500 smaller factories.

If you wonder why all this to do about "in-plant" feeding, you can get ready answers from Doctor Goodhart and OPA.

MANY months ago, the powers that be became aware that industrial employees, working long hours and hard, couldn't maintain any higher efficiency on short rations than fighting soldiers.

Almost hand in hand with expanded food production, rationing and price controls, WFA and OPA started their campaign to see that war workers get more than the ordinary civilian share of food. "In-plant" feeding was the answer. Cheap, nutritious lunches and breakfasts, with, in some instances, mid-shift snacks of fruit or vegetable juices, milk and sandwiches—and not a crumb or drop of it requiring extra ration points and all of it at prices glued to the floor.

In some cases, the results have been phenomenal. In one big Evansville, Ind., plant, 85 per cent of the employees now use the "Victory lunch" exclusively—and absenteeism, from this stimulus alone, is estimated to have dropped 19 per cent.

Some industrialists are so delighted with the results that they testify that come peace they'll never let the dinner pail come back, even if they have to set up free-lunch counters and take it out of the stockholders' pockets.

Stamp News

DESPITE her all-out war against the Axis, Soviet Russia continues to find time to issue new postage stamps. Close on the heels of a war set of 11 values, described in this column two weeks ago, a new set of eight values commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics has arrived here.

These stamps are the first to present the likeness of Marshal Josef Stalin.

Stalin's profile appears on the right side, facing that of Lenin, on the 30k value, illustrated here, and is side by side, in profile, with that of Lenin on the 5k value.

Printed horizontally, the stamps carry the numerals "1917 — XXV — 1942" across the top, and depict scenes of fighting. The colors are dull in comparison with previous Soviet issues, with only the one ruble, a red brown which portrays Lenin against a Soviet flag, deviating from the soft browns, grays and greenish-blues of the other seven stamps. The values of the complete set are: 5, 10, 15, 20, 30 and 60k and one and two rubles.

Six additional values of Portugal's new stamp, mentioned here recently, have reached this country, confirming earlier belief that the stamps are part of a regular issue of several denominations.

In addition to the 10-centavo dark red, illustrated, these values have been received: 5 centavos black; 20c dull violet; 50c plum; 1.50 escudos turquoise; 2c violet brown, and 10c gray blue. A 16th century sailing vessel flying a five-star flag is the central design.

In connection with inauguration of airline service by the K.L.M.-Royal Dutch Air Lines from the West Indian Islands of Curacao and Aruba to Miami, Fla., K.L.M. has announced it will provide first flight covers to be flown from Willemstad, Curacao, or Oranjestad, Aruba, for collectors of U. S. and Canada at a cost of 35 cents each. Covers addressed to members of the armed forces and auxiliary services addressed in care of A.P.O. or the Navy will be available at 20 cents.

The company explains that the service is being offered collectors because of the impossibility of sending covers to either island because of the war and censorship. No philatelic mail will be flown from this country. Requests for covers should be forwarded to Royal Dutch Air Lines, 521 Fifth Avenue, New York, 17, accompanied by money order payments for the covers desired.

Of special interest in view of the visit of President Higinio Morinigo of Paraguay to this country is the appearance of a Cr. $1.20 light blue Brazilian air-mail stamp commemorating President Morinigo's visit to that country last month. The stamp features an inscription reading "Visita Presidente Higinio Morinigo Maio 1943," which is printed in a pennant effect across a pillar. According to information received by J. & H. Stolor New York wholesalers, 2,000,000 copies of the stamp were issued in perforate form and only 200 in imperforate form.

Free Yugoslavia's set of four stamps issued recently in London for use of its servicemen has been overprinted with an increased value of 12.50 dinars. The additional revenue will go to the Red Cross.

Goodard - Casperson Ceremony Performed In First Methodist

Mrs. Otto Casperson, of Warren, announces today the marriage of her daughter, Miss Adeline, to Howard Goodard, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Goodard, of Sheffield. The ceremony was performed at 3 p. m. Friday, June 18, in First Methodist church, Rev. Wayne Furman reading the service.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Norbert Casperson, with William Taylor, brother-in-law of the bride, as best man. The bride wore white slipper satin, fashioned with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and full skirt and her fingertip veil of illusion was bordered with lace and fell from a coronet of waxed blossoms. Bridal roses and baby's breath formed her colonial bouquet. Mrs. Casperson wore rose moire and tulle, the fitted bodice and full skirt matching those of the bride's gown and her matching veil held in place with flower headband. Golden roses and baby's breath were used for her bouquet.

A reception followed at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Franklin G. Haines, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. Table appointments centered about a three-tier wedding cake and yellow and white gaudies in candelabra.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Goodard, Sheffield; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Crane, Bradford; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weidow; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gilder, Olean, N. Y.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple returned to Warren, Mrs. Goodard to remain here for the present and her husband to return to his service post from which he is enjoying his first furlough in two and one-half years.

Dorothea Peterson In Junior Recital

First junior recital given at the Warren Conservatory this season was that of Dorothea Peterson, pianist, who was assisted by Gloria Hausman, vocalist.

Miss Peterson is former pupil of Miss Lillian Larsen, of the Conservatory staff. After a pleasing interpretation of the Bach Sol-feggietto, she was heard in the first movement of the Beethoven Moonlight Sonata, playing it with a beautiful touch and fine regard for the melody and accompaniment. Her Grieg Nocturne and Rachmaninoff Prelude in C sharp minor were given with an excellent repose and musical and interesting interpretation. Miss Hausman was at the second piano for Miss Peterson's playing of the difficult Mendelssohn Concerto in G Minor. This number was done with a convincing precision, strong rhythm and adequate power in the climaxes.

For her voice number, Miss Hausman was accompanied in fitting style by Edith Haines Kuster. Her classical group was done with splendid diction and fine dynamic infection and in her contemporary selections she showed particularly the remarkable improvement the past year's study has brought.

How to Save Ration Coupons

Your GAS range can help you put up early fruits and vegetables!

The best way to save on ration coupons is—to do plenty of home-canning this summer and fall. Everyone should have at least two fruits and two vegetables every day. You won't be able to do it on ration coupons alone. But through home-canning, drying and storage, your family can be assured of plenty of healthful foods.

Now's the time to get busy on early canning—especially strawberries and cherries. The Home Service Department of your Gas company not only will gladly help you with any information, but has prepared a complete booklet on all canning methods. Be sure to get your copy.

Spectacular flames and pillar of smoke mark the end of a twin-motored U. S. Army transport near the runway of a North African airfield. Not enemy action, but a fire blowout as the plane was taking off at 90 miles per hour caused the crash and fire. All crew members escaped.

Campers Get Flag Pole Gift Of Veterans

Monday's highlight of the Girl Reserve program was a flag pole ceremony at 9 a. m., in charge of Shirley and Beverly Johnson. Another event which is being much anticipated by the younger members is the "stunt night" scheduled for Wednesday and including counselors and campers.

The Girl Reserve "stay at home" Campers of the Y. W. C. A. enjoyed an Aladdin Indian program for the Saturday half-day outing. They were seeking an Indian mound as they strolled on their way, stopping at the second avenue entrance long enough for each camper to have a part in the breaking of the ground for the setting of a flag pole donated to the Y. W. C. A. and the 1943 "Stay at Home" Girl Reserve Campers by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, with Earl Small and J. H. West in charge of the ceremony.

The Indian mound they were seeking was not located but two members of the dramatic group, Alice Betts and Marie Kamerer, in Indian attire enacted the scene of "Her Shadow" of the Ojibway tribe of Indians. The campers were so taken by their alluring charms that they decided to learn more about the customs of the Indians and perhaps if they keep on seeking, they may yet find the mound they were in search of in the Saturday hiking program.

Next time you get sore — — grab your pencil... FIGURE IT OUT YOURSELF

Next time you're sore at the Nazis or Japs, just sit down for a minute. And if there's a pencil handy, do a little figuring—something like this . . .

Sure, taxes are higher. You're paying more than you used to. And the cost of living hasn't gone down any either. That's costing you more. But . . .

Chances are, you're making more, too. And maybe somebody else in the family's working. Maybe one of the girls is bringing home a pay envelope every week—and pretty good pay at that. Chances are, there's more cash coming into your home right now than there has been for a long, long time. What's more . . .

Maybe you were going to get a new bus this year. Every year, you know, millions of people did get new ones. Or radios. Or refrigerators. Anyway, it's a cinch you'd have spent some money this year on things you can't buy now.

So what?

So maybe you can put more of your family earnings into War Bonds! Not 10% or 12% or 15% or 20%—but all you can! If you and every other American who has an income will sharpen up your pencils and figure out how you can save an extra dollar here and another there that can go into War Bonds—if you'll keep on figuring and saving—you'll provide a weight of metal that will snap the Axis' spine like a rotten stick!

Let's pour it on! And keep pouring it on till the murderous fools who have defiled our soil, butchered our sons, broken up our homes—who have refused to let us live and work in peace—are smashed utterly to dust!

Unbeaten Meadville Outfit Invades Warren On Sunday

Gunder the Wonder

A study of Gunder Hagg, Sweden's holder of seven phenomenal world records from 1500 to 5000 meters.

National Forge Nine Prepares For Stiff Tilt With Only Conqueror

Sunday afternoon at 2:30, the National Forge and Ordnance baseball team, as yet undefeated locally takes on the Meadville nine, one of the fastest semi-pro outfits in this part of the state, and right now sporting a record of 7 victories and no defeats.

The National Forge dropped a 4 to 2 decision to the Bulldogs on first meeting last week in the Talon town, but had a hitting slump at the time and are looking forward to a real battle Sunday.

The National Forge is inactive this week, unless they are booked for a Sunset League encounter, which is doubtful, and the rest should find their pitching staff in fine shape.

Either "Diz" Hines or Freddie Gagliardi will probably take over the hurling job on Sunday afternoon, with Meadville in all probability calling on Harry Elmon, who took the Forge count on previous meeting.

Terrors Are Victims In An Exciting Game

In an exciting game played on Beatty Field Sunday afternoon "Whitey" Weidert out-hurled his brother Bob, whiffing 20 batters, to give the Boys' Club a 13-11 victory over the Terrors. Tom Juliano played a spectacular game at shortstop, hit two home runs and a single in four trips to the plate. To Bonavita and Traub each had three hits for the losers. The box score:

CATTLE KILLING BEAR IS TRAPPED

(Kane Republican)

One of the biggest bears to be captured in this section—a killer which has slain a cow, calf and a number of sheep, has been trapped in Antrim township by State Game Protectors and will be transported into Elk county to be liberated.

State Game Protectors W. E. Carpenter, of Mt. Jewett, and C. B. Kelsey, of Port Allegany, set up the trap in Antrim township after many reports of bear raids. The huge log trap was in operation one night when bruin walked into it.

Many bee hives on farms through the county have been raided and damaged and numerous reports have been received of cattle killing by bears. Carpenter reports that a large number of bears are known to be in the nearby forest including a mother bear and triplet cubs which were seen by hundreds of persons near LaMont this Spring.

Baptists Win Fast Contest At Softball

The Baptist Temple boys in the YMCA-Church softball league scored an upset on Friday night when they took the First Methodist team across. The local dopesters had it all figured out for the Methodist ten but fate plus excellent playing on the part of the Baptists deemed it otherwise. The game, which took 12 innings to decide who was who, was undoubtedly one of the best staged this season. From the 5th to the 8th inning neither side scored a run then the First Methodist crowded one across the plate to tie the score up at 2 all. The next four innings were scoreless and practically hitless until the last of the 12th when Dunkle of the Baptists sacrificed and one of his teammates came home to score the winning run.

This week's games brings together St. Joseph's and 1st Methodist tens on Monday. Tuesday the Grace Methodist and Episcopal teams will tangle. Wednesday brings together the two top teams for the postponed game of last week, St. Joseph's and Grace Methodist, First Baptist and Presbyterian take the spotlight on Thursday to wind up what will be an intensive and extensive week of softball.

"Prexy" Marshall Johnson has called a meeting of the Softball League committee for tonight at 8:00 p. m. At this time the Brain-trusters of softball will attempt to smooth out some of the rough spots now confronting the league.

St. Josephs ten defeated the First Methodist team in the Y. M. C. A.-Church Softball League last night to the tune of 10 to 5. This was not as bad as it was expected to be because the Methodist boys really played the game all the way. One St. "Joe" player was heard to remark after the fray, "It wasn't the hits we made that won, it was the errors the Methodist boys made." Which indicates that the Methodist softballers were on their toes.

Seuist, pitching for the Catholic boys kept the nits well scattered and accounted for 7 strike-outs. Roseuist and Riggs toed the mound for the Methodists and did a good job.

Marshall playing in center field for the First Methodist did a bang-up job and covered his position so well as to be the outstanding player on this team.

"Dick" Ponsoll, also playing center field, but for St. "Joe" caught fly balls that many times appeared impossible to get and deserves the credit for backing up his teammates so well.

Tonight the Grace Methodist and Episcopal teams will meet with the smart boys picking the Methodists to come out on top.

Wednesday brings St. Joseph's and Grace Methodist together for a meeting of the two top teams. Many fans will journey to Beatty to see this affair which has aroused the interest of the whole community. This game was previously rained out.

"Long Johnny" Gee Joins Pirates Today

Pittsburgh, June 22—(AP)—The rampaging Pittsburgh Pirates, opening a series in Chicago today after three straight triumphs over the Cubs here, will soon have an additional player—"Long Johnny" Gee, six-foot nine-inch south-paw hurler.

Gee, purchased for $75,000 from Syracuse, was plagued by a sore arm shortly after joining the Bucs and has been on the voluntarily retired list for the past year. He worked out a few days last week with the club and was given an okay by Manager Frankie Frisch, who lost Johnny Lanning to Uncle Sam yesterday.

Commissioner K. M. Landis reinstated Gee yesterday and the club said he would be signed as soon as a contract could be written out. Gee left with the team for Chicago.

Campaign Under Way Now To Secure 400 Plane Spotters

A big airplane spotting system is to be organized for Warren by the Exchange Club, with close to 400 volunteers wanted to man the post twenty-four hours a day. The Exchange Club was asked to handle the Warren post by the American Legion which is supervising the system throughout the county. Though many people may believe that airplane spotting is unnecessary now that the Allies are on the offensive, the nationwide system has proved its worth many times. Lost planes have been guided to port after being spotted by watchers, and crashed ships have been located, in many cases saving the occupants from death. With thousands of planes in the skies, many of them manned by student pilots, there is much good to be derived from a complete aircraft warning system, and anyone participating is playing a vital part in the war effort. Volunteers will be asked to serve in pairs on four-hour shifts. They may be men, women, or high school students. If you are interested in helping the Exchange Club provide Warren with the personnel required for our share of this defense unit, call Clifford Johnson, telephone 35, and add your name to the list. If you require gasoline to get to the post, coupons will be furnished by the Exchange Club.

"I told you to WATCH YOUR NEWSPAPER!"

This is no joke! It has happened to thousands accustomed to full iceboxes before Pearl Harbor.

In this case, however, the icebox might have been better stocked had the lady not used up her ration coupons before more were available and expended too many points for too little.

It was all in the newspapers, her husband is telling her. Had she watched them for ration reminders this wouldn't have happened!

He is right. Keeping you up with your ration news is only one way your newspaper serves the home.

It helps you to meet the whole new impact of war on the home-front . . . to stretch your food dollars further . . . to safeguard your health through scientific diet and expert advice . . .

To make you a better homemaker whether it's to fashion your own spring suit or to refurbish the living room . . . to assist you in your war effort generally whether it's showing you how to grow a better victory garden or more ably serve civilian defense . . .

Imagine, in fact, waging this war without newspapers!

SPECIAL SALE

THE HOME OWNERS LOAN CORPORATION, an agency of the United States Government, is rapidly liquidating all properties now owned by them. To do this they have carefully reviewed all properties and in instances where the prices seemed too high they have cut prices. We have about 20 of these properties here in Warren County and adjoining McKean County and this is your opportunity to own a nice home with only a 10% down payment and an interest rate of only 4 1/2%. Prices run from $1000.00 to $9500.00, so you have a broad choice. Why not use some of your increased earnings to take care of the down payment and then all you have is a small monthly payment which takes care of principal, interest, taxes and insurance.

Many Types of Landing Craft For Invasion

Amphibious American forces use many types of landing craft in their drills for invasion of enemy shores. In maneuvers on the Atlantic coast, troops swarm down ladders into boats, left. Marines who attacked Guadalcanal used armored "alligators" to advance from ship to shore, top, and brought tanks to the beach in "crocodile" boats, bottom.
